What Now? Challenges and Opportunities for Peace and Democracy in Israel

An Evening with Jeremy Ben-Ami, J Street President & Daniel Sokatch, New Israel Fund CEO

Boston, MA: Daniel Sokatch and Jeremy Ben-Ami will discuss the choices that the Jewish community and Israelis will have to make for peace with the Palestinians and to safeguard Israel's democratic freedoms.

In opening our doors to this program, Temple Israel aims to continue to create a forum and a safe space for thoughtful, responsible leaders to share their opinions and views. It does not imply that we endorse the views of any presenters. All responsible groups on the right, left and center of our Jewish community have been welcomed into our home. We live by the words of Isaiah 60:11 that appear on our letterhead, "may your gates be open always," and remain committed to promoting civil discourse and allowing the expression of diverse points of view on Jewish and moral issues of our day.

About Temple Israel: Temple Israel is a diverse, urban, Reform Jewish congregation where all are welcome to live Judaism together through discovery, dynamic spirituality, and righteous impact.
